Mission Statement

Seven Generations Education Institute is dedicated to excellence in lifelong learning and empowerment through Anishinaabemowin, by providing community-based and student centered learning opportunities for Anishinaabeg.

Program Overview

During this one-year certificate program, you will receive the training necessary to start a career as a professional cook and chef in today's growing and challenging cooking industry.

Topics of study will include the fundamentals of food preparation, presentation and management of kitchen production. You will also be introduced to hospitality management through courses that focus on areas such as food and beverage management, nutrition and kitchen management.

Qualified graduates of the Chef Training program who have successfully completed courses in Hospitality Law and Accounting are eligible for direct entry into the second year of either the Culinary Management or Culinary Administration Program.

Upon graduation, and registration with the local Apprenticeship branch, students may proceed to challenge the in-school theory portion of the cook apprenticeship program required for the Canadian provincial trade of cook certificate qualification from the Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities.
